PROPOSE CUT IN GAS RATE FOR CANYON

WEST TEXAS GAS OFFICIALS PLAN REDUCTION

Schedules in Cities Served by Company Now Being Studied; Rates To Be Lower

Canyon is to have a lower gas rate.

This information comes through two sources, Earl Robbins, local manager of the West Texas Gas Company, and Mayor R. A. Bellah. The report through the local gas office comes from R. F. Hinchey, Lubbock, vice president of the gas company, who has announced that a study of the schedules was being made with a reduction of rates in view. Announcement of the revised schedules will be made after a survey of the company's business in cities served by them, it is stated.

"Realizing the present conditions and endeavoring to pass something of a benefit to the customer, we are making this survey and studying possible rate schedules with a view of arriving at a rate that would be particularly beneficial during the winter months," is the statement issued by the gas company. It is claimed that the amount of the reduction will be determined after the survey has been made, which will require some time, probably all summer.

It is expected that the new schedules will likely go into effect sothetime in the fall and will be applicable upon winter bills. The revision of the rates will effect the schedules in each of the 42 towns and cities served by the company.

At the organization of the West Texas Municipal Association at Lubbock last March a committee was appointed by the president of the association, Mayor Leon Goodman, of Midland, to work out a plan of lower gas rates with the gas companies serving the West Texas area, Mayor Bellah states. Mayor E. S. Ireland of Hereford is a member of the committee.

Pres. Hill Talks Of Appropriations For College Here

"Considering the economic condition of the country and the treatment accorded by the Governor to other educational institutions, I consider that West Texas Teachers College is rather fortunate in the matter of appropriations for the biennium beginning September 1. While we lost by the Governor's veto the sum of $19,200 for permanent improvements, we shall be able to do a number of things that have long needed doing. Outstanding among these, of course, is the Museum Building. When this shall be completed, our school will be unique among the colleges of the state, and I anticipate rapid growth of the Museum in both material and usefulness in the next few years. It is hoped that Mr. Haley may be induced to return to his position as field secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

Other improvements include, for the first year of the biennium, a stage curtain, accoustical correction of the auditorium in the Main Building, additional paving, a new boiler, and some other minor items. In the second year the only improvement of any great value will be repairs on the gymnasium.

In general maintenance the appropriation is about the same as for the current biennium. The same is true as to salaries. It is true that the Governor vetoed three positions in the faculty, but none of these positions were on the appropriation for the current year, and the only effect of his veto was to leave these places dependent upon the local fund, as they are at present. The veto of the Summer School appropriation for 1933 is not so bad as it appears on the surface, as another Legislature will convene in time to take care of this item. Meantime, the appropriation for the Summer School of 1932 is approved and ready. When it is considered that great numbers of faculty positions were vetoed in most of the other colleges, friends of our college should be very grateful to the Governor."

Signed:
J. A. Hill.

Ralph Elevator Sold to Henneman Grain Company

The sale of the Ralph Elevator located at Ralph Switch, 9 miles south of Canyon, to the Henneman Grain company of Amarillo, was announced last week by Holland Toles, Happy grain dealer and former owner of the elevator.

Alden C. Mann, for the past several years cashier of the First State Bank at Happy, has resigned that position to become manager of the elevator at Ralph. Cecil Briggs, a former member of the school faculty at Happy will succeed Mr. Mann as cashier of the bank.

The Ralph Elevator was erected in 1929 at a cost of approximately $15,000.00. The amount of the purchase price paid by the Henneman Grain Company was not made public.

Miller-Lybrand to Take Ford Agency At Pampa July 1

The Miller-Lybrand Company, Inc., Ford dealers in Canyon since 1928, is moving to Pampa, J. M. Lybrand, manager, announced this week. The equipment and force of the company are being moved there this week, and it is expected that the company will be completely moved before July 1.

The Miller-Lybrand Company is taking over the Pampa franchise for dealership of the Ford company. There is no Ford dealer in Pampa at this time as the franchise, held by the Rose Motor Company there, was released several weeks ago. The field was offered the local company and they accepted.

"We regret to leave Canyon," Mr. Lybrand stated, in discussing their removal. "During our stay here we have learned to like Canyon exceedingly well and have made many friends here which we hate to leave. Without any hesitancy at all I say that Canyon is the cleanest and best little city anywhere in the Panhandle. In the past we have refused several offers of franchises in larger cities in order that we might remain in Canyon.

"The field to which we are moving is much larger. Pampa is a larger industrial city and with practically the same investment as we have had in Canyon we believe that we can handle a larger volume of business.

"I realize that we have passed through the hardest part of the depression and we are leaving Canyon at a time when we have a noticeable increase in business over that of a few months ago. It was for that reason that we contemplated the move for some length of time. I am grateful for the business patronage we have received here and express our sincere thanks to Canyon and her citizenship."

The Miller-Lybrand Company, Inc., was organized in 1928 and succeeded the Canyon Motor Company as Ford dealers in Canyon. J. M. Lybrand, Jr., has been manager since the organization of the firm.

Officers of the company are: L. R. Miller, president, Amarillo; Henry Schafer, Oklahoma City, vice president; J. M. Lybrand, Jr., secretary-treasurer.. This was the first automobile business venture of the people connected with the company.

It is expected that a new Ford dealer will be established in Canyon immediately, as the local franchise has been surrendered. Frank L. Boggs, representing the Ford company, was in Canyon Monday of this week and stated that he expected to locate another dealer here at a very early date.

Mr. and Mrs. Lybrand and their son, Jimmie, moved here from Amarillo and have made a host of friends since they have lived in Canyon. They have been very active in the social and civic circles of the community during their residence here.

The employees of Miller-Lybrand and their families are moving to Pampa and will remain with the company there. They are: Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Nash, and family; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hopkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gassaway.

ELECTION WILL BE CALLED FOR PARK BONDS

PETITION PRESENTED TO CITY OFFICIALS LAST WEEK

Wragge Property Offered to City of Canyon for $8,000; Bond Issue To Be $10,000

An election has been ordered by the City Commission to be held on July 20th for the purpose of voting $10,000 worth of bonds to purchase and improve 100 acres of ground on the Palo Duro creek, known as Wragge's park and to be used as a municipal park for the city of Canyon.

The order for the election was passed after the commission had been presented with a petition signed by 38 taxpayers of the city requesting that an election be called. Only 25 signatures were required by law to compel the commission to call an election, Mayor Bellah stated.

The Wragge property, consisting of 100 acres of ground located just northwest of the city on the the highway and situated on either side of the creek, including all improvements is offered to the city for park purposes at a figure of $8,000. W. C. Kenyon, Amarillo and Oscar Hunt, Canyon, purchased the property last week and have offered the city an option on it at that price. The price of $8,000 is a special offer and was made only because the city was without a municipal pary and playground.

Mayor R. A. Bellah states that the city of Canyon now has a bonded indebtedness of only $70,000 compared with $93,000 when he became mayor three years ago. The bonded indebtedness has been reduced $23,000 during the three year period and at the same time an exceedingly large amount of improvements and construction work has been done, including 12 blocks of pavement, two new water wells and a large amount of improvements on the city property, of which is a new pump pit which was completed last week at a cost of $3,000.

It is not known just what the increase in the city tax rate will be but it is not expected to exceed four cents.

Large Number of Students Feted At C.-C. Picnic

The picnic proved to be popular with those who attended and more such picnics are planned for the students in the future.

Court Awards $5,000 Damages to Wirt

The suit of Lorenzo Wirt, vs. Espy Transportation company of Plainview, and tried in the Amarillo courts last week resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff granting Wirt $5,000 damages.

Big Results in Drive for New C. of C. Members

A concentrated membership drive for the Chamber of Commerce, which began Tuesday morning, has brought in approximately 50 new members, according to incomplete records checked Wednesday afternoon. This drive, which began Tuesday morning shortly after a Chamber of Commerce breakfast, is expected to be finished by the workers before the end of the week.

The drive for an increased membership was centered on Canyon business firms and individuals, including boarding houses for the college students.

At a breakfast held at the Palace Cafe early Tuesday morning, Rev. J. R. Sharp, Presbyterian minister, who recently moved to Canyon from Dalhart, gave an inspirational talk to those who participated in the drive. He praised the members of the group for their courage to stage such a drive and for their spirit and the cause for which they worked. He complimented the vision of the Chamber of Commerce toward the future. Fred E. Worthman presided at the meeting.

The drive is one of several which will be staged during the next few months in an attempt to carry on a large co-operative program for the community.

Speaking of the drive, Fred E. Wortham, newly elected Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who will assume duties of the office on July 1, said: "The results of the drive are very gratifying and are beyond the expectations of the committee before the drive was launched. The spirit of co-operation from citizens of the community is indeed encouraging. Such co-operation is necessary for a greater co-operative program for the betterment of the town and county.

"The drive was a success from several standpoints. Expressions were heard from practically every business man in town and a number of professional men. Many valuable suggestions were given the workers and much constructive criticism was received."

Do your shopping in Canyon.

Governor Sterling approved on Friday the appropriations bills, giving to the West Texas State Teachers College the only building allowed any educational institution in the state. This building is the museum-library building, the state appropriating $25,000 which will be matched by $25,000 to be raised by the citizens of the Plains.

The directors of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society will meet in Canyon next Tuesday for the purpose of formulating plans to continue the campaign on subscriptions. The architect will meet with the directors, and it is expected at that time that the exact location of the building will be selected, that choice will be made of the brick, and other details worked out so that construction may start just as soon as the $25,000 has been raised by the citizens.

Prof. L. F. Sheffy spent last summer working on the subscription campaign. He has pledges amounting to approximately $17,000 practically all of which will be paid in as soon as needed by the Society. An intensive campaign will be waged in the Panhandle-Plains territory to raise the remainder of the money. Mr. Sheffy has spent more time on the project than any other one person, and believes that all of the $25,000 in cash will readily be subscribed when the people of this section know definitely when construction of the building will start. The state's part of $25,000 will be available in September, but construction may start just as soon as the plans can be approved, as it will likely be at least the first of September before all of the arrangements have been completed.

President J. A. Hill has announced that he has asked J. Evetts Haley to return in September. Haley is responsible for the assembling of much of the relics and other materials in the museum of the Historical Society, which is the largest collection in the state.

The bill for the museum was one of the two buildings approved by the House of Representatives in the legislature. The senate approved this building, and several other buildings. In free conference, six major buildings were written into the education bill, all of which were vetoed by Governor Sterling. Citizens of the Plains feel very grateful to Governor Sterling for giving this institution the only building which he approved in the entire educational budget.

Other Appropriations

The Governor hit the educational budget hard in his veto. More than $800,000 in buildings were eliminated from the bill, and the summer schools for the year 1933 were not approved. These items amounted to about $700,000. The Governor vetoed the summer school items in view of the fact that the regular session of the legislature will be held in January, 1933, which gives adequate time for the legislature to provide for these summer schools.

The West Texas State Teachers College fared very well in comparison with other institutions. Three positions, which have been paid out of the local funds in the past and were added by the legislature to the State pay roll, were eliminated by the Governor on the theory that he would not allow any new positions at this time. The legislature had allowed four new positions, increased one part time position to full time, and had increased slightly one salary. The Governor allowed to stand the two increases, and gave the school one new position. It was the only position allowed in the entire education bill. In all of the other colleges, the Governor not only eliminated all new positions, but vetoed places which had been on the state pay roll in the past. The salary list for W. T. for the coming two years as approved amounts to $400,100, as compared with $429,280 for the past two years. However, when the summer school for 1933 is added, as it certainly will be by the next legislature, the total salaries for the present biennum will be larger than those for the past two years.

W. T. was given $64,000 for departmental and general maintenance as compared with $61,100 for the past two years.

In permanent improvements, W.

THE GOVERNOR'S VETO

Governor Ross Sterling took the advice of many of his friends and used the power of the veto on the appropriations bills rather than disapprove the entire bills and return them to a spccial session of the legislature. The News believes that he did the right thing in this matter.

However, we believe that the Governor made some mistakes in the use of the veto. He would not be human if he had not made some mistakes, but we feel that he either accepted the wrong advice in some of the matters, or was wholly misinformed.

In the first place, it is wrong to jump on only the educational bill to reduce the state's running expenses. Every governor does this, and of course Governor Sterling had plenty of precedent to guide him in the undertaking. But the educational institutions should not be made to alone bear the burden of hard times, and retrenchment policies in the state government. The educational bill was only $77,000 more than the bill passed by the 41st legislature. The Governor reduced it more than $2,000,000. It appears that our state government has set up a policy of paying tribute to the courts, care of the criminals, instigating a program for better treatment for the unfortunates, running the machinery of the state capitol, but at the same time telling the young men and women of the state upon whom will rest the foundation of our civilization and be leaders of Texas during the coming years that they will just have to get along as best they may because the state is hard up financially. Personaly we believe that the youth of the land, those sound in body and mind, have a prior claim upon the resources of the state to make them better men and women than do those who violate the principles of civilization and become wards and dependents upon the state government.

In the second place, the educational budget should not suffer by the state's pursuing the policy of retrenchment unless all departments of government stands its part of the retrenchment policy. The judiciary bill was signed by the Governor without a single vetoed item. Very little was taken out of the departmental and eleemonsyary bills. There were many thousands of dollars in both these bills which could have been eliminated until the state was in better financial condition. The courts of the state, as the Governor pointed out in a message, are a most expensive branch of the state government, but they got almost every penny asked for. At Austin the departments have piled up the cost of state government at a most alarming rate, and this time received just about what they asked for, and practically all of the bill was approved by the Governor.

The News believes that the greatest mistake of the Governor's veto was in positions eliminated. Colleges cannot be run efficiently without efficient teachers. To eliminate positions means that the colleges must maintain these teachers out of the local funds, and these funds are hard pressed to meet the demands of the institutions.

Furthermore, it is a sad day for Texas when the state government cannot finance a few buildings for the educational institutions. All were eliminated excepting the museum-library for the West Texas State Teachers College, and this was saved because the people of this section will donate half of the money for the building.

The veto of the summer schools for the second year means that the presidents will be forced to spend a great deal of time in Austin in January, 1933, again fighting the battle for appropriations for these institutions. The summer session is recognized as the most important part of the teachers colleges, and should not have been put under the stigma of the veto.

So far as the institutions as a whole were concerned, the West Texas State Teachers College fared as well as any of the seventeen. The museum-library will be a great thing for the institution, and will offset the bad judgment of most of the other veto on the part of the Governor so far as this college is concerned.

THE MUSEUM-LIBRARY BUILDING.

All of the people of Northwest Texas are deeply gratified that Governor Sterling saw fit to approve the $25,000.00 item for a museum-library building in the budget of the West Texas State Teachers College. Perhaps few in this section have realized that with the completion of this building, it will be the only museum building in the State of Texas. Furthermore, probably few realize that it will house the greatest collection that has been assembled in the state of Texas. The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society was the first regional historical society in the State, and was the first society in the state to employ a field secretary, who is largely responsible for the wonderful collection which has been assembled here.

While we are congratulating each other upon the success so far gained, let's consider the immediate future, and the work that will be necessary before the dream of the society is realized. The people of this section must raise $25,000 in cash and have it in the bank before the money will be available in the state treasury. Something like $17,000 has been pledged, but very little of this amount has been been paid in. Cash is the only thing that counts just now. The News feels confident that every man, woman and child in Randall county will want to have some part in the erection of this building. It may come to the stage of passing the hat in order to secure this pledge of $25,000, and all of the money should be in the bank by the first of September.

The News further makes a suggestion in the erection of the building. There are scores of people in Randall county who unfortunately do not have much money at the present time, but who will be willing to donate labor in the erection of the building. Already several skilled mechanics in Amarillo have volunteered to come and donate labor on the building. There are men with teams, who can help haul material; there are carpenters, brick mason, electricians, plumbers —men who can work in various ways—who will be glad to donate some time to the erection of the building, and thus do their part, which will mean the same as the donation of money. At the proper time a list will be started of all who will so help.

But for the present, cash is the thing that is needed, and must be had in order to get the building under way. Canyon has always done things in a big way, and we expect to see our citizenship duplicate the performance of the past in putting over this big project.

A CITY PARK

The people of Canyon have for a long time wondered when the city would be able to secure an adequate city park. Little did they realize that during this year, 1931, when conditions seemed so hard, that the opportunity would be presented to buy the very property for a city park which scores of Canyon citizens have looked at for many years and realized that it was the ideal location for the park of their dreams.

The opportunity is here. The property is offered at a most reasonable price—in fact a price that is astonishingly low. There is no question as to the location being most ideal for a city park. It is close to town, yet not too close. It has nearly all of the improvements that will be necessary for the city to open its park. There is an abundance of shade, with plenty of young trees now planted and growing fine. It has one of the best swimming pools in the Panhandle. It has adequate ground if the city wishes to start a municipal golf course, which every progressive city must sooner or later establish.

As a means of income, there is good land for farming. In addition to this, there is located on the land one of the best sand and gravel deposits in this section. Canyon needs this deposit for her street improvement program, and this deposit is worth a lot of money to the city.

It is extremely fortunate that this property may be secured. A single block of the land within the city limits would cost approximately one-third of the price asked for the 100 acres, and the city would then have to spend a great deal more money than will be necessary to improve the Wragge land should the tax payers decide to vote bonds to buy this land.

The News is very much in favor of buying this land. We believe it would be a great mistake to pass up this opportunity. The same kind of offer will likely never be made the city again.

A Hollywood star figures he gets $10 a word in every film. And yet they say talk is cheap.

The vogue for reducing might be worthwhile if it also applied to heavy artillery.

Those college professors appointed to study prohibition won't lose any time, of course, in putting it to a test.

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

Eve started it and the daughters of Eve inherited it. Eve gave Adam the apple, and it seems that Adam must have passed it on. For every man and every woman has an Adam's Apple. Put your finger on your Adam's Apple —that is your larynx, your voice box — it contains your vocal chords. Consider your Adam's Apple —when you do so, you are considering your throat— your vocal chords. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants. Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

LEGION AUXILIARY HAS REGULAR MEETING

At the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday afternoon Mrs. Frank R. Phillips, chairman of the membership committee, had charge of the program. Referring to the report of national organization, Mrs. Phillips pointed out that the Auxiliary now has the largest membership in its history. Last year the national membership numbered 373,167, whereas the records for 1931 to date show an enlistment of 400,000. This increase has not been in just one section of the country, but is general. It is attributed to the fact that the eligible women of the country are placing more value on auxiliary membership in the face of existing economic conditions. The Department of Texas and the Department of Pennsylvania are contending for the lead in the membership race at the present time.

Mrs. G. A. Farlow and Mrs. H. O. Price were appointed to go as delegates to the Convention of the Fifth Division of the Legion and Auxiliary, which is to convene in Lubbock next Saturday and Sunday. Several other members will probably attend also.

LET Your HOME Be YOUNG Again

Here you see what can be done with a seemingly hopeless old house. First, a smart Colonial siding has been added, and painted white. Colonial pillars have been substituted for the ugly spindles. Attractive shutters have been introduced. A garage has been built on as a wing.

Surprisingly, all these improvements, and others in the interior, such as the arching of a square entrance, and the new wood floor, are all very inexpensive. Let us furnish you with modern plans and estimates.

Ministers' Group Passes Resolution

Inasmuch as we wish to impress upon old and young alike that this community as a group wishes to keep the commandments of God, and,

Inasmuch as the practice of buying and selling on Sunday tends to counteract the influence of the churches, and,

Inasmuch as the keeping of some business houses open on Sunday tends to force others in a like business to also stay open, and,

Inasmuch as this practice deprives clerks of their legitimate right of observing Sunday as a day of rest and worship,

Therefore, we as ministers of Canyon, respectfully urge the merchants of Canyon not to extend the number of hours which they keep their business houses open on Sunday, but rather, if possible, to reduce the present number of hours used:

Signed:

C. E. JAMESON, Chairman.
W. C. KUNZE.
C. G. HOWARD.
L. H. HUDSON, Secretary.

DEDICATED TO FATHER

Who is it wears the patch-work hose?
And seldom goes to picture shows
That his girl may have fine clothes!
It's Father!

Who is it wears last summer's hat
That his boy may join a college frat
And thinks it's quite all right at that!
It's Father!

Who is it buys the bread and meat
And keeps the shoes on all our feet
And then gets shoved on a back seat!
It's Father!

We have Mother's Day and Poppy Days
And lots of other holidays
But almost all are labor days
For Father!

Get out his slippers and easy chair
Caress and smooth his crumpled hair
And let him know you're glad he's there—
Your Father!

Church of Christ

The great gospel meeting now in progress is indeed one of blessings. Your attitude says how much. Large crowds are coming to the tabernacle every morning and night.

Brother Mickey is doing his part exceptionally well, bring forth treasures new and old from the Book of Books. The great need of the world today is a complete turning to the Bible and that alone. God and Christ never faileth. Forsake all human plans and obey Christ.

There will be all-day services next Sunday, June 21. All preparations are made for a big dinner on the ground for all who attend. Everyone is invited. Come and bring a friend.

We want 1,000 people to fill the great tabernacle at Church of Christ Sunday morning and evening. Evangelist G. F. Mickey will bring soul inspiring messages from the Bible. Seats are free. "Whosoever heareth, let him say, come."

Pioneer Plains Resident, 94, Died Happy Thursday

G. N. Caylor, pioneer, Confederate Veteran and successful ranchman-farmer, passed away Thursday morning at 11:10 at his home one-half mile Northwest of Happy, ending one of the most colorful lives of Swisher county pioneers.

Uncle George, as he was called by his wide circle of friends, came to Swisher county almost 40 years ago, settling near Tulia. A few years later he moved to a ranch near Happy where he lived until his death. He witnessed the transformation of the Plains from a wild cow country, into a prosperous wheat empire.

Born in 1837, in North Carolina while the States were still young, Uncle George went through two of the bloodiest wars our country has ever seen. He served in the Confederate Army under Braggs and was in the hottest nest of the South. It is remarkable that he went through the entire conflict without a scratch and it was often related how he emerged from the battlefield one time holding on to the flag when all of his companions had fallen.

Coming to Texas in the early 70's and almost five years before our present state constitution was written, Mr. Caylor settled in Grayson county where he lived until about 1891 when the lure of the West brought him to Swisher county, a country of a few widely scattered villages and neighbors lived far apart. That was before the railroads came to the Plains. But what was lacking in conveniences was made up in the genial western hospitality.

He united with the Baptist Church a number of years ago and remained a staunch member to the end. When the new Baptist Church was erected at Happy several years ago he was a heavy contributor.

Surviving are his widow; three sons, Bob Caylor, Bellevue, N. M.; Frank Caylor, California; and Dave Caylor, Las Cruces, N. M.; three daughters, Mrs. Texas Baird, Lampassas; Mrs. Tippy Knox, Canadian, and Mrs. Jim Knox, Happy. A daughter, Mrs. Thomas, died several years ago.

The funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Happy Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. B. F. Fronabarger, and Rev. J. T. Burnett, both of Canyon, and friends of the deceased for a number of years. Interment was in the Dreamland cemetery at Canyon.—The Happy Herald.

NOTED BASS IS FIRST LYCEUM SINGER HERE

ROLLIN PEASE APPEARS IN CONCERT PROGRAM FRIDAY

Rollin M. Pease, noted American bass, was presented to a comparatively large college audience Friday morning, when he appeared in concert at W. T. S. T. C.

Having as an outstanding work at the present, a tour of colleges and universities, Mr. Pease has arranged an unusually adept program, which he presented at the time of his appearance here.

Using a great deal of humor in his presentation, Mr. Pease was able to make his audience easily grasp the explanations he gave in connection with the numbers.

Miss Hazel Allen, instructor of music, W. T. S. T. C., has received favorable comment on her work as accompanist for the artist, both from Mr. Pease himself and from the audience.

Origins of music were brought out in the first group of four numbers. An interesting outset for the program was the first number, "Kol Nidre." This is representative of the type of music in the days of King Solomon. "Utque ant Taxis," a chant, which perhaps orginiated about 1717 A. D., produced a rising enthusiasm on the part of the audience.

It was in his presentation of two numbers from "Elijah" that the artist rose to his best. "Is not his word like the fire?" and "It is not enough, let me die" were the two excerpts which he used. Mr. Pease is an outstanding Elijah. The submissive tone qualities of his voice together with his facial expression made a noticeable effect on his auditors.

A selection from "Abenstern," by Tannehauser, was another composition well fitted to the deep baritone voice of Mr. Pease.

As a fifth and last number of the first group, "Rain," a negro spiritual in representation of folk type, established the audience in their liking of Mr. Pease.

As a second group, American settings of good literature were used. In "Prospice," Sydney Homer, Mr. Pease made a strong appeal. "Charity," by Richard Hageman, was the other selection of this group.

A group of ballads composed the third division of the program. "Trade Winds," by Frederick Keel, traced back to the more classical productions in ballad. "Mandelay" was used to show the type with the popular air.

As a group of encores, the artist sang "Time Enough," "Mother Carey" and two folk types, "Dawn in the Desert" and "Lindey Lou."

The third number of this group was written by Gertrude Ross and shows something of the forcefulness of the desert and the broad open spaces of the West.

Mr. Pease is known not only for his work as a concert artist, but also for his many talking machine records. At the present he is on his way to the rededication of the tomb of Abraham Lincoln, Springfield, Illinois, where he will take part on the program.

Mr. Pease has a summer schedule of 20 engagements with colleges and universities. For one week the latter part of August he will spend his time in an outdoor program of "Elijah."

In an interview Mr. Pease struck on the tremendous growth in the field of music today. He says that the municipal performance with its stiff collars and box seats is fast giving way to a more modern concert. The schools and colleges are taking over musical development. As a result, the artist believes that more people are being trained in classical music than ever before. He considers that with the coming of the radio, the evening opera is practically passe. In his characteristically humorous manner he says its big advantage is that one can "cut off the squacking soprano" when he does not want to hear her.

The man who brags, "I run things in my house," usually refers to the lawn mower, washing machine, vacuum sweeper, baby carriage and the errands.

I am not the boss around our home and nobody knows it better than I do. Here's a poem I wrote about the younger of my two little BOSSES—not so good, but it tells the story pretty well:

DADDY'S PAL

I have a little lad of Seven—his name is Charles or "Chuck."
He hangs around his Daddy like a porous plaster stuck.
It's Daddy this and Daddy that and Daddy, Why? What? Where?
Until I from distraction have to break out for the air.
But after all is said and done, I'd trade him for no gal
For when you ask him who he is, he says, he's Daddy's Pal.

He climbs on all the furniture and pulls and tears and jumps
Till scarce a piece has managed to survive his many bumps.
It's scratches here and scratches there and chips and mars and dents
Until our once prized walnut looks about like fifteen cents.
But we can buy more furnishings, new splendor we'll corral—
And who'd deny a youngster spry like Daddy's little Pal.

I marvel at his endless pep—he wears his Daddy down.
If I had half his energy, I'd soon win world renown.
It's scamper, rough and tumble, from morn till time for hay.
I only hope he'll love his work the way he loves to play.
But I wouldn't want him quiet like a youthful Silent Cal
So I'll let him yell and play like—well, he's Daddy's little Pal.

DEMONSTRATION SCHOOL SERVES GREAT PURPOSE

IS "TRAINING" DEPARTMENT, RESEARCH LABORATORY FOR MANY STUDENTS

A check of the enrollment in the Demonstration School this summer reveals some rather unusual and interesting facts.

There are 172 practice teachers and observers enrolled, 55 of whom are doing their work in the grades; 56 in the primary department, and 61 observing and teaching the 82 high school pupils enrolled. In addition to those students who are doing credit work in observation, there are a number of observers who meet classes more or less regularly and arrange individual conferences with the critic teachers, to discuss problems peculiar to their respective schools.

The Demonstration School is humming busily this term with another phase of work entirely new to it. Many of the graduate students have already chosen and outlined the subjects for their masters' theses and are using their spare time in research and conference at the Education Building, where the materials and various equipments have been placed at their disposal.

Apparently people are waking up to the possibilities and real purpose of a demonstration school, and the faculty at the Education Building is sparing neither effort nor time in co-operating in the use that is being made of both the classes and equipment. They seem to consider it a wholesome indication that the Demonstration School is rapidly becoming what it is primarily intended for, a laboratory for experiment and research, with free access to all the departments of the college. It is merely a working unit of the college, and it is gratifying to those interested in education to see that it is coming to be used as such.

Farley Ready to Meet Reynolds in Championship Go

Amarillo. — Arrangements have been made to take care of the largest crowd in the history of wrestling in the Panhandle of Texas by officials promoting the Farley-Reynolds championship match here on June 22 at Metro Park.

It is thought it will be possible to seat 10,000 fans in the ball park.

FARLEY

REYNOLDS

The ring will be set up near home plate, bleachers erected on three sides, and ring side seats around the ring.

All seats in the grandstand as well as the ringsides will be reserved. Over 1000 ring side seats will be built around the ring. These will constitute the choice section.

Boxes in the grandstand will rank next to the ring side seats. These boxes extend from one end to the other of the grandstand. Seating six persons each, they will provide the best arrangements for those who will attend the bout in parties.

Farley demonstrated in his victory over Billy Hallas last Monday night he is in form, but still he is not satisfied with his physical condition. He will leave tonight for New Mexico where he will romp and play among the mountain tops. Farley hopes to add to his endurance by climbing mountains and working out each day under the direct rays of the sun.

Remembering how closely Farley came last year to winning his title, Reynolds has made plans to train for the bout in Denver. He, too, will seek in the mountains enough work to get in the best condition of the long and successful career.

The ticket office phone number is 9128, and De Coster or his aides will be on the job from early morning to 9 p. m. from now until the day of the match. Out-of-town fans may write to De Coster, 416 Fillmore, for reservations.

The card on which the championship match will be the main event, also will present four other top-notch men. Billy Hallas, defeated Monday night by Farley, will meet Cyclone Mackey of Clovis, N. M., in the semi-windup. Mackey, a fast, clever youngster, who is gaining wide recognition throughout the Southwest, will meet a bulldog veteran in the wily Greek, and an exciting match is certain to ensue.

Another preliminary will see Roy Roy, popular local lad, in action against Roy Welsh, the Borger tooldresser, in a battle of middleweights that should prove to be a snappy curtain raiser.

Margaret Camp Is Compiler Unique History Booklet

According to The Hereford Brand, Margaret Camp, an ex-student of W. T., who taught this past year in the Walcott school in Deaf Smith County, has recently donated to the library of that county a commendable and unique book, original in content and technique, which was compiled by Miss Camp and the pupils under her.

The book is a smyposium on Texas, covering agriculture, buried treasures, origin of county names, populations, Palo Duro Canyon, products, rainfall, road and surface maps and other interesting data, presented in pictures and news clippings.

Many of the maps which appear in the book were drawn by the pupils themselves. In the foreword Miss Camp indicates that the work was only an idea, a beginning, and suggests that some other school might undertake the task and turn out a more finished product.

An interesting feature of the book, which was intended as an aid in teaching Texas history, is the binding, for which a wholesale tailoring company's catalog has been used. It has been carefully and copiously indexed and cross-indexed.

Pie paste
Chopped onion
Salt and pepper

Line the sides of a baking dish with pie paste; put in a layer of meat with a few thin slices of onion, and sprinkle with salt and pepper; next add a layer of sliced potatoes, with bits of butter dotted over it. Alternate the steak and potato layers until the dish is full.
